

Jack L. Knetsch is Ph.D in Economics from the Harvard University. Jack L. Knetsch has published several books and other papers on behavioral economics, environmental policy, and planning. He has a large experience in teaching, and currently works as a Professor Emeritus at Simon Fraser University, Canada.

Marcelo Barbosa is President of the Securities and Exchange Commission of Brazil (CVM). Bachelor of Laws from the Faculty of Law of the University of the State of Rio de Janeiro (UERJ) and Master of Law (LL.M) from Columbia University in New York, USA. Author of articles on subjects of Corporate's Law and Capital Market Law and lecturer in conferences in Brazil and abroad.

Ana Leoni. Responsible for the area of Education and Technical Information at ANBIMA, member of the National Committee for Financial Education (CONEF), advisor to the Brazilian Association of Financial Education (AEFBrasil); Director of Planejar (Brazilian Association of Financial Planners); Treasurer of the IFIE Advisor Board (International Forum for Investor Education) and Chairman of IFIE America's. Ana Leoni is author of the @dinheiro_com_atitude project.

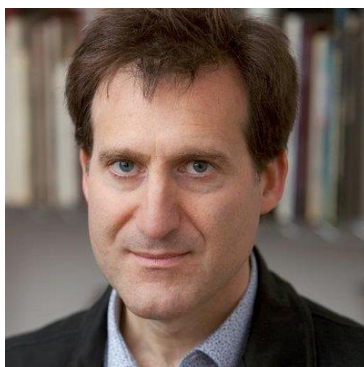

Felipe Paiva. MBA in Finance from Insper and AMP in Business Administration from Columbia Business School. He is currently Director of customer relations for B3.

Luciana Asper is the Promoter Prosecutor at the Federal District Attorney's Office (MPDFT), and coordinator of the Citizen Against Corruption project and the campaign #TodosJuntosContraCorrupção.

Alex Preda is Professor of Accounting, Accountability and Financial Management at King's Business School. He holds a PhD from the University of Bielefeld. Prior to joining King's College London has worked at the University of Edinburgh and at the University of Konstanz. Writer of the book Noise: Living and Trading in Electronic Finance, Alex's research interests include: strategic behavior in financial markets, decision-making and cognitive automation and trading technologies.

Jonathan Morduch holds a Ph.D. from Harvard University, in Economics. He is a professor of public policy and economics at the Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service and writer of the book Portfolios of the Poor: How the World's Poor Live on $2 a Day.

Andrea Grifoni holds a master's degree in International Economic Policy from the London School of Economics and Political Science. Currently serves as a Political Analyst at the OECD, and is a member of the OECD International Finance Education Network Secretariat and is a member of the FinCoNet Secretariat – International Organization for Financial Consumer Protection.

Flore-Anne Messy holds a master's degree in economics from SciencesPo, serves as head of the OECD Financial Affairs Division, responsible for the OECD project on financial education.

Gustavo Gonzalez. Commissioner of the Securities and Exchange Commission of Brazil – CVM. Lecturer in post-graduate courses in Corporate Law and Securities Regulation. LLM from Columbia Law School (Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar). MBA in Finance from IBMEC. LLB from Pontificia Universidade Católica do Rio de Janeiro. Member of the Brazilian Bar Association and of the New York Bar.

Sofia Macías is a Mexican journalist and writer, financial education specialist and author of the best-selling Little Pig Capitalist. She holds a Master's degree in Business Administration (MBA) from the Rennes Business School in France (ESC Rennes Business School).

Ruy Ribeiro .Ph.D. in Finance – The University of Chicago Booth School of Business. He was CEO of J.P. Morgan in London and director of HSBC in London with extensive experience in Finance. He lectured at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania and is currently an Assistant Professor at the Economics Department of PUC-Rio.

Bruno Giovannetti is a Ph.D. Professor at the Department of Economics at FEA-USP. He holds a Ph.D. in Economics from Columbia University, a Master's degree in Economics from the University of São Paulo. His research areas are Asset Pricing and Applied Econometrics. He was Deputy Executive Secretary of the Brazilian Society of Econometrics, SBE (2012-2013 biennium). He is currently Director of Publications of the Brazilian Finance Corporation (SBFin).

Breno Herman Mendes Barlach, Master in Political Science from the University of São Paulo. He made part of the degree in Cornell University, United States. Breno has experience of eight years in research, in the areas of marketing, innovation and social impact. He is currently Project Manager at Plano CDE - Research, Innovation, Impact.

Maure Pessanha is the Executive Director of Artemisia, where she has been working since 2007. She worked for four years at Ashoka - Social Entrepreneurs, working in the selection of entrepreneurs and also in partnership with McKinsey Strategic Consulting. He holds a degree in Administration from FEA-USP - University of São Paulo, specializing in Social Programs Evaluation by FIA-USP.

Vera Rita de Mello Ferreira holds a Ph.D in social psychology from the Pontifical Catholic University of São Paulo (PUC-SP). She is a Professor of Economic Psychology and Architecture of Choices at B3 Educação and other institutions, an independent consultant on Economic Psychology and Financial Education for public and private organizations and the representative in Brazil of IAREP (International Association for Research in Economic Psychology).

Joyce Serido Ph.D. in human development and family studies from the University of Arizona. She is an Associate Professor at University of Minnesota. She leads a multi-university team in the first longitudinal and multidisciplinary study of young adult financial behaviors.

Anna Gabriela Malta is a postgraduate in Management in Education and founder of Sociedade Providência, a non-profit organization.

Flávia Ávila holds a Master's degree in Behavioral Economics from the University of Nottingham's Center for Decision Research and Experimental Economics (CeDEx). Professor and coordinator of ESPM's MBA in EC with more than 15 years of experience in experimental studies on human behavior. Co-organizer of the Behavioral and Experimental Economics Guide and founder of the InBehavior Lab consultancy.

Rogerio Oliveira holds a Master's degree in Economics from UNICAMP. At SEC of Brazil, he has worked in the development of economic research and analysis applied to capital market regulation. Currently coordinates projects and research in behavioral sciences applied to investor protection (CECOP / CVM).

Bianca Quirantes Checon has a PhD in Accounting from University of São Paulo (2018), serves as an academic coordinator at Saint Paul Business School and develops research at the Center of Studies and Research in Finance (CEFIN) and the Center of Communications and Cognitive Sciences (4C), both at University of São Paulo. Bianca's research centers on financial accounting and investment decision making, and she particularly has interest in presentation format of financial information, information overload and cognitive biases at capital markets.

Ronaldo Deccax. Coordinator and Professor at the COPPEAD Alumni in several extension courses. 22 years of experience in Consulting, Supply Chain / Procurement, Business, Sales, IT and Auditing in companies such as White Martins (Praxair), CSN, Itaú / Unibanco, Ernst & Young, IBM and Xerox. 18 years of experience as instructor, lecturer and professor at institutions such as UFRJ (COPPEAD, Escola Politécnica e FACC), Brazilian Supply Chain Institute (INBRASC) and Brazilian Institute of Finance Executives (IBEF).

Edivan Fonseca de Miranda. Master in Business Administration from the Federal University of Goiás (UFG) and government employee of the Ministry of Industry, Foreign Trade and Services (MDIC). He currently serves as General Coordinator in the Micro and Small Enterprise Support Department of the Special Secretariat for Micro and Small Enterprises (SEMPE / MDIC). He has served as PREVIC Complementary Pension Specialist, acting as Coordinator-General for Actuarial, Accounting and Economic Research of PREVIC.